ABOUT ANNIKA BELLAMY

Born and raised in Las Vegas, NV, Annika is your all American SoCal girl who loves her Dutch/Indonesian and European Spanish roots. Annika has been creating, writing and singing music for as long as she can remember. Now living in Southern California Annika loves creating and recording music that inspires others. Annika comes from a musical family. Her uncle was the guitarist and vocals in the 70's band Redbone, and co-wrote the hit "Come and Get Your Love".

Annika is now working on a followup EP. Multiple Labels & Grammy producers have already expressed interest in co-writing, producing and recording Annika's next 5 releases. She looks forward to working with talented producers and collaborating with other artists. "I really look forward to performing "Summer O'Clock" on the beach and at festivals!" said Annika.

Annika is organically the #1 singer/songwriter on ReverbNation where her music has been chosen for Curation. Her tone, style, natural beauty and wonderful personality has even caught the attention of the #1 hair care products & philanthropic powerhouse Paul Mitchell, aligning themselves with Annika, making her their first young artist to be sponsored.
